

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE DISTRICT OF UTAH

VEAR LEROY BROOKS,

Plaintiff,

vs.

STATE OF UTAH,

Defendant.

2011 NOV -7 P 1:13

DISTRICT OF UTAH

MEMORANDUM DECISION AND ORDER

BY:

DEPUTY CLERK

Case No. 2:11-CV-1000-DAK

District Judge Dale A. Kimball

Plaintiff, Vear LeRoy Brooks, an inmate at Utah State Prison, filed a civil rights complaint against the State of Utah. As discussed below, the Court concludes that Brooks must pay the filing fee before this case can proceed.

The in forma pauperis statute authorizes a court to let an indigent prisoner file a complaint in federal court without prepaying the filing fee.¹ But, it also restricts those who have repeatedly filed complaints that are frivolous or fail to state a valid claim. The relevant portion of the statute provides:

In no event shall a prisoner bring a civil action . . . under this section if the prisoner has, on 3 or more prior occasions, while incarcerated or detained in any facility, brought an action or appeal in a court of the United States that was dismissed on the grounds that it is frivolous, malicious, or fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted, unless the prisoner is under imminent danger of serious physical injury.²

“These fee provisions are intended ‘to reduce frivolous prisoner litigation by making all prisoners seeking to bring lawsuits or appeals feel the deterrent effect created by liability for filing fees.’”³

¹28 U.S.C.S. § 1915(a) (2011).

²*Id.* § 1915 (g).

³*Cosby v. Meadors*, 351 F.3d 1324, 1327 (10th Cir. 2003) (quoting In re Smith, 114 F.3d 1247, 1249 (D.C.Cir. 1997)).

Brooks has filed three complaints in the United States District Court for the District of Utah that were dismissed as frivolous or failing to state a claim upon which relief may be granted.⁴

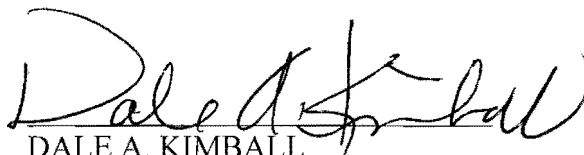

Section 1915(g) applies here because (1) Brooks was a prisoner when he filed this complaint; and (2) he has filed three or more prior cases in federal court that have been dismissed as failing to state a claim or frivolous. The language of section 1915(g) is mandatory. Thus, a federal prisoner who falls within the three-strikes provision is required to prepay the entire filing fee before his claims may proceed further.

ORDER

Because he has filed three or more cases in federal court which have been dismissed as failing to state a claim or frivolous, Brooks is not eligible to proceed further without prepaying the filing fee in this case. Therefore, Brooks is DENIED leave to proceed without prepayment of fees. He is ORDERED to pay the entire $350 statutory filing fee within thirty days from the date of this order. Failure to do so will result in the dismissal of the complaint.

7 November, 2011.
